

Narrative Structure

A narrative often focuses on a problem that the main character faces. The rising action is a series of events that build up to the climax, or the most intense part of the story. After the climax comes the falling action, a series of events that lead to the resolution, when the problem in the story is resolved.

Fill in this chart to help you analyze the narrative structure of a text.

Passage: _____

